Foreword

Our past year has been one filled with many joyous, sad, anxious moments. It has been one that many of us, especially the Seniors, will remember with special thoughts. We have found numerous innovations this year at Oliver Ames—our smaller, three grade system, and the more extensive physical education program. Our athletic teams as well as different individuals have distinguished themselves and the high school as one which places value on both physical and academic interests of the student.

The students and the administration have a most important role to play in the high school program. It is through their willingness to work and their spirit of co-operation that Oliver Ames has achieved such a high standing. In order to give a truer picture of the school as a whole, a new section has been initiated into this 1962 EASTONER. Entitled "Student Life," it attempts to show the student not only in the various organizations but also in classes and extracurricular activities in school and out.

Jeanne,
A great kid with a real great personality.
Guess we've had some real rare times & fights. Don't forget Hyannis & Archie & Jen! Wonder if we'll see them at all this summer. Be good. Don't take a bun out kung & Be nice to Bucky!
Paula

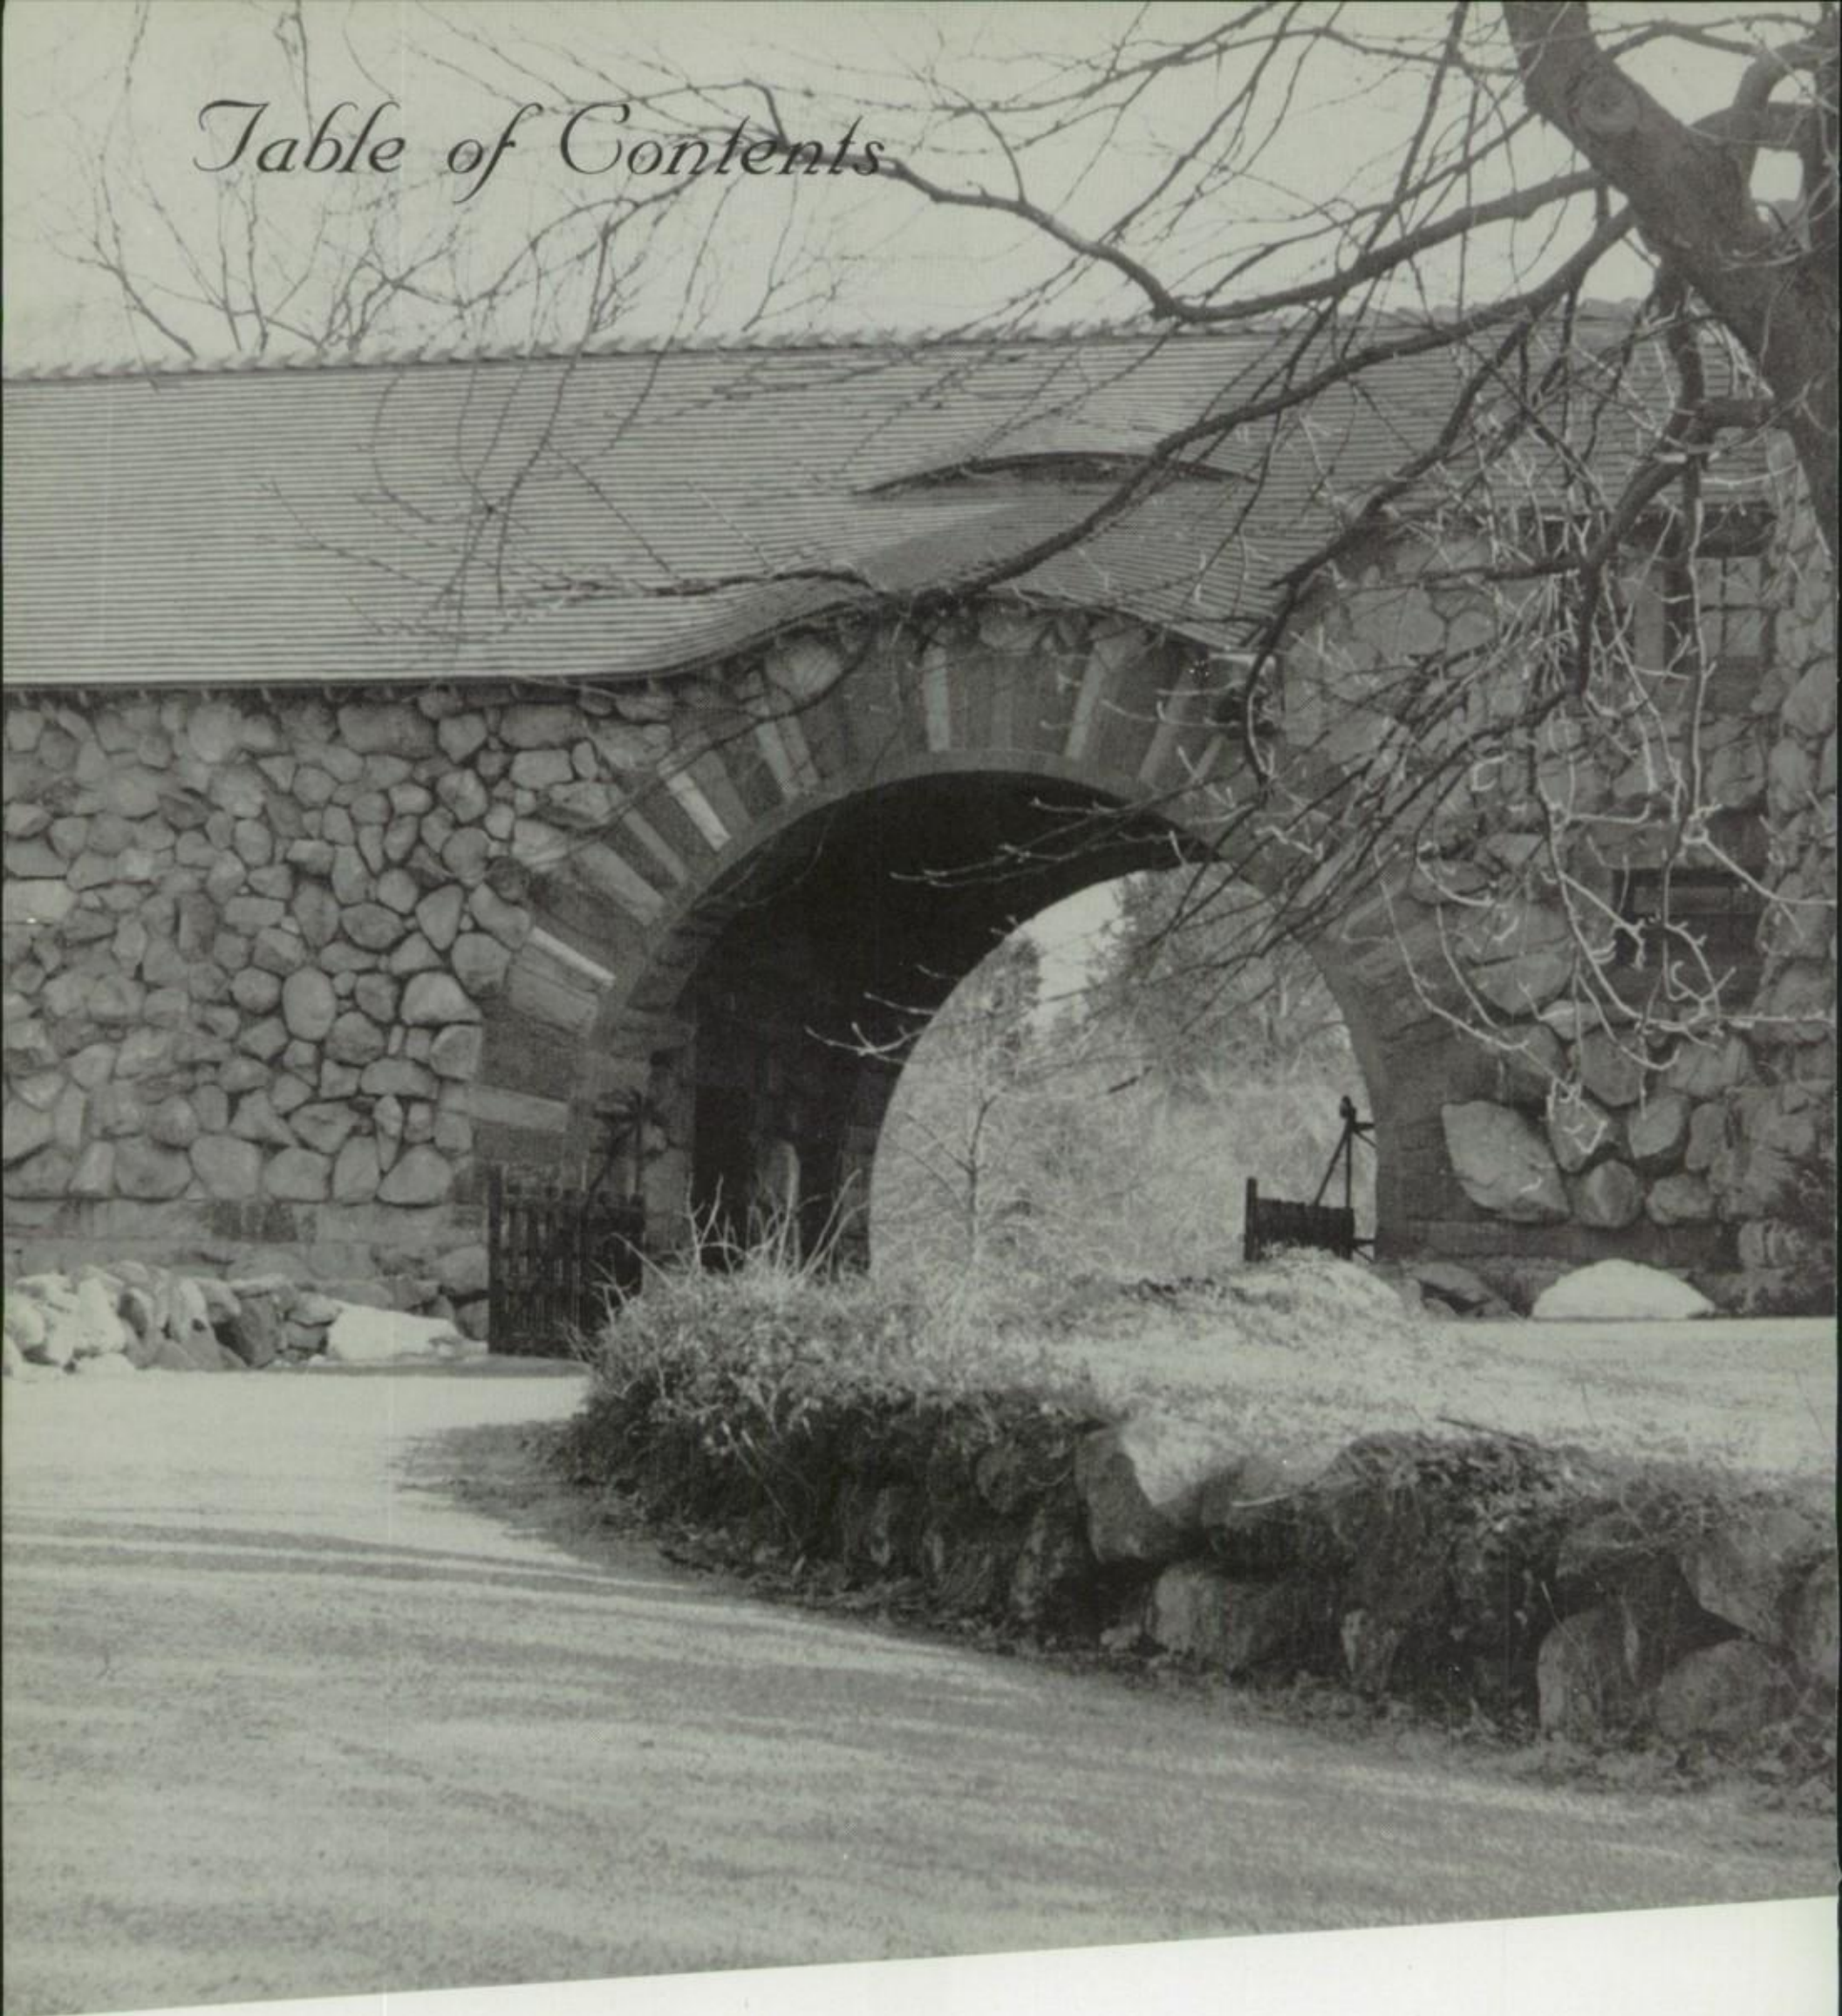

To the Seniors and fellow classmates I extend congratulations and best wishes. May this 1962 Eastoner be for you a source of memorable recollections in the years to come.

Dedication

It is with a deep sense of pride, respect, and gratitude that the graduating class of 1962 dedicates this Eastoner to Miss Kathryn E. Healey.

First and foremost you have been our class advisor for these past four years. To many of us you have taught a good, hard algebra or trig course, but more important you have been a friend to each of us. You have stood up for us even though at times we may not have deserved it. For these and still many more things, we thank you.

Miss Kathryn E. Healey

Superintendent's Message

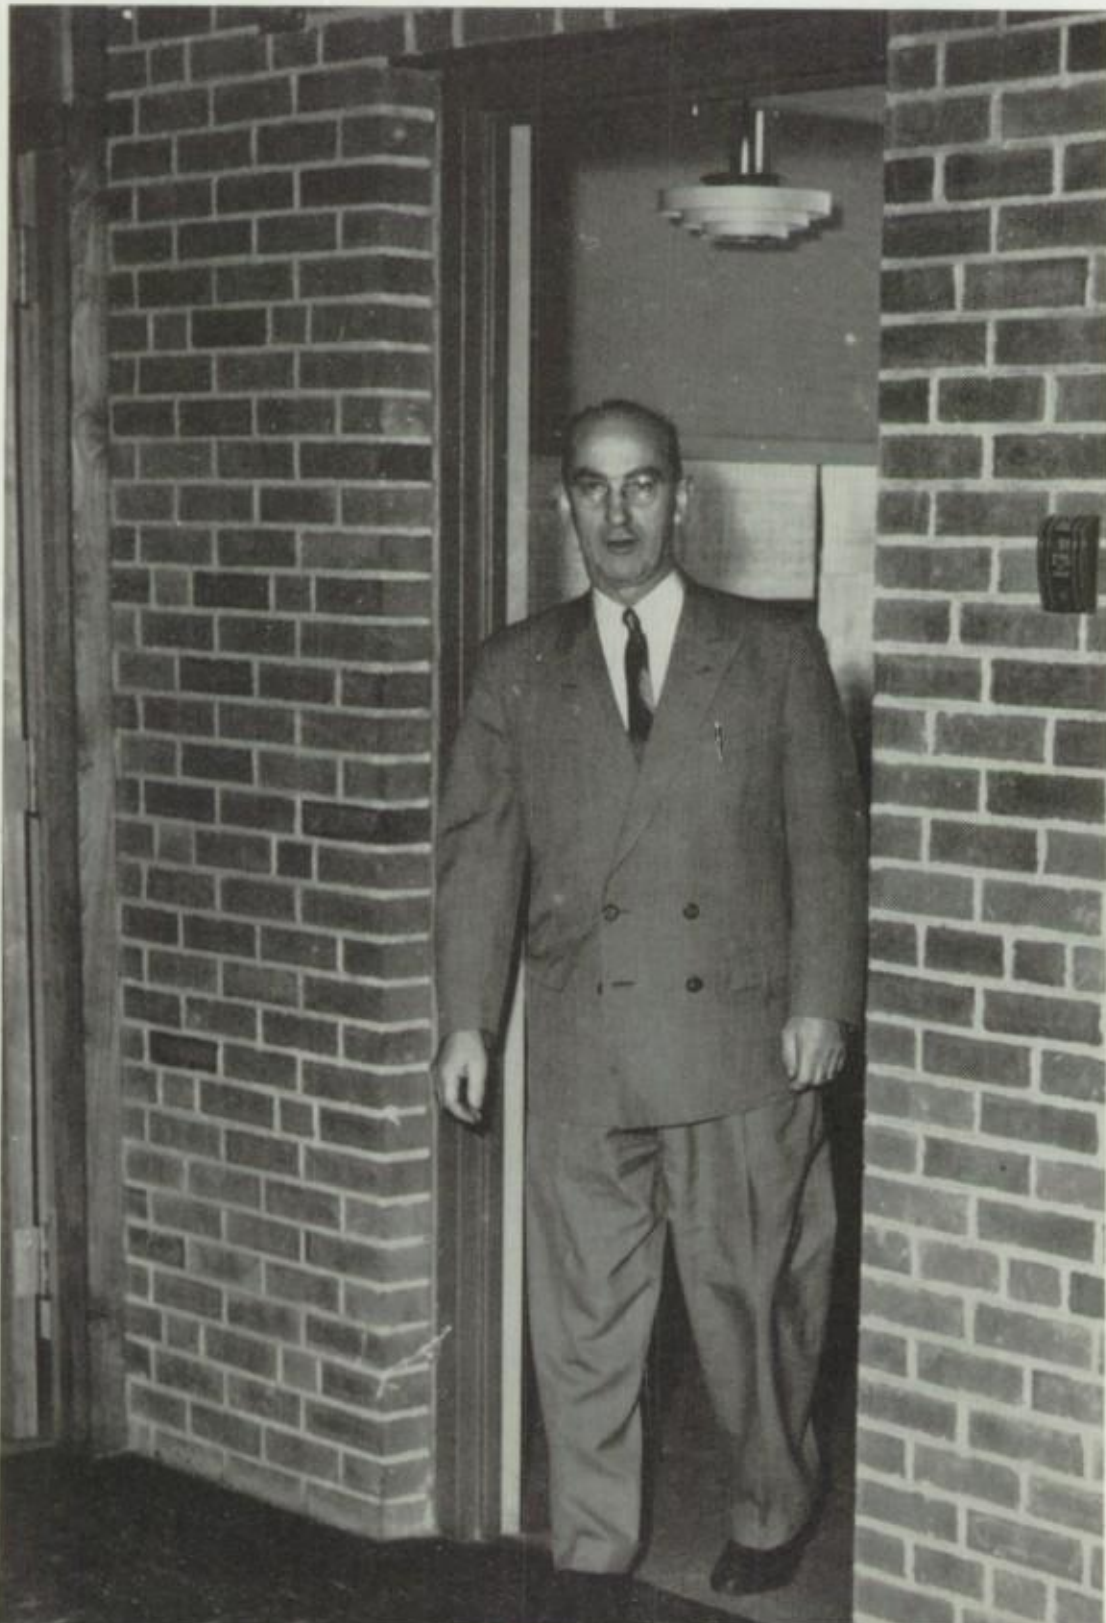

You graduating seniors face commencement day, as it approaches, with mixed emotion. On the one hand, you are experiencing keen regret at leaving both the high school that has come to mean so much to you, and the many friends you have made during the past four years. Nevertheless, you await with eagerness the opportunity to face up to the many challenges for which your high school career has been preparing you.

Yours is a generation which has grown up during the devastating events of World War II, the ushering in of the Atomic Age, the eve of space travel, and the attempted conquest of men's minds.

It is my sincere hope that the twelve years in the Easton public schools have prepared you to sift right from wrong, the truth from the untruthful, and righteousness from viciousness.

You are most fortunate to inherit a country that is the wealthiest, the most powerful, and offers the greatest opportunities to young people upon the face of the earth. Your country believes in individual freedom and the right of each individual to develop his capacities to the fullest. Do not be deterred in passing these privileges and responsibilities on to the later generations.

PHILIP M. HALLOWELL
Superintendent of Schools

Principal's Message

The basic strength of democracy lies in the importance it attaches to the individual. Through democracy it has been established that certain individual rights are a part of the heritage each and every American receives at birth. Certain other forms of government completely deny this philosophy and insist that the individual is only of consequence to the extent that he can be used by the state, for the glorification of the state. They would have us believe that the two things, advancement of the state and the attaching of primary importance to the individual cannot exist together. We as members of a democratic society believe them wrong and through our American democracy we have proven them wrong.

We must never forget, however, that our emphasis on the importance of the individual and the rights of the individual also places upon each person a responsibility to use his rights for the welfare of all. It is the misuse, or abuse, of our rights and privileges which creates problems and dangers to democracy. These individual rights and powers must be exercised within the democratic framework and it may even be necessary, at times, to accept restrictions upon them in order to ensure their future preservation.

As members of the graduating class, I sincerely hope that you take with you a profound respect for our way of life, an appreciation of what it is and a determination to accept the adult responsibility of sharing in it. Some of you have already shown outstanding characteristics of leadership and others of you will do so in the future. Those who do not choose to lead, however, must participate and take an active part if future generations are to continue to enjoy the freedom we now have.

My hope for each and every one of you is that you will accept your responsibility and find complete satisfaction in pursuing it.

Library

Throughout the day the library is one of the school's busiest places. Here students are provided with books to fulfill their class requirements as well as books for their enjoyment.

Besides working in this capacity, the library is also a meeting place for the various school clubs.

This year Miss Connell has added many new books on varied subjects as well as a more extensive visual-aids section to the library.

Our library provides adequately a most important service to Oliver Ames.

Scene: The opening of Michael Polisenio's new racetrack

Time: 1972

Madeline: Gee, it was nice of Mike to invite our class to the grand opening of his new racetrack.

Cindy: It's good to see all our classmates again. I was shocked to hear that Mayor F. Albert Martin is doing a wonderful job cleaning up Las Vegas. Here comes Kenny McCabe; he's a nose specialist, you know.

Kenny: Hi, Gang!

Maddy: Hi, Ken, how's business?

Kenny: I've been doing great since I hired Judy Chapman as my secretary. My office is next door to the South Easton Pharmacy, and I hear someone singing "Let Me In" every day.

Cindy: That's Maddy. Judy Porter won't let her in. Here comes Mike and Butch.

Butch: Hiya, Kids! Hey, I was just speaking to the most ambitious member of our class.

Mike: Oh, you mean Larry Moran? I hear he sleeps—I mean works—in the window display for the Seedy Posturepedic Mattress Company.

Butch: No, I'm serious—I mean Eddie Cram. In the summer he's head guide at Mammoth Caves in Kentucky, and in the winter he has a novel act with the circus.

Mike: What's that?

Butch: He's a lion tamer and has the only act where the lion sticks his head in the tamer's mouth.

Kenny: Why, here comes Kathy Langley? How's your job in the aspirin department at O.A.?

Kathy: Hello! Did you hear of the feud between two of our classmates? Sheila Condon is attempting to sue Richard Fuller. I guess his eelburger stand is putting Sheila's refreshment booth out of business. Her lawyer is Bev Tufts.

Maddy: Is it true that Sue Dinsmore went to Florida with Arlene Stoddard in her sailboat?

Kenny: Yes, and we have many celebrities in our class, too. Hazel Clark and Sharon Ray are co-stars on Playboy's Penthouse, and "Tex" Marshall has taken the Range Rider's place.

Mike: I recently read Joan Burke's best seller, "How to Hold Your Temper." It looks like Marjorie MacVarish's book, "Face Reality," published by the Craig Company, is also going to be a best seller.

Butch: It's too bad Joe Nieviera couldn't make it tonight. I guess he's still out in California, prospecting for that big vein.

Kenny: Does something smell funny around here?

Prophecy

Mike: Henry Steinberg, author of a dictionary of idio(ma)tic expressions, told me it smells like pneumonia.

Maddy: I hear the Hatchfield cousins are overseas. Diane's in Scotland manufacturing kilts, and Susan's a broomstick maker in England.

Cindy: Anne Hallowell and Judy Greene own a sound effects studio. Judy's best imitation is the Woody Woodpecker laugh.

Kathy: Jeanne Sinclair teaches at the John Robert Powers charm school in Boston. I hear she's Sue McKenna's instructor.

Butch: Bill Simonson is a bat exterminator and Wesley Hathaway blows bubbles for Lawrence Welk's orchestra.

Kenny: Butch, I hear you're doing some research in the chemistry lab at Bay Road Tech.

Mike: Ya, he's trying to find a cure for the J. T. disease.

Maddy: Nancy Hall runs a driver training school. Boy, you can never predict what some people will do for a career.

Kathy: I guess not. Sharon Baird is a clothes designer for midgets, and Angela DiCesare is her model.

Cindy: Carol Chickering couldn't make it tonight. Her coach, Linda Santoro, says she's training for the six-day bicycle race in the Olympics.

Butch: Paul Downey has taken Stanley Bauman's place, and Paul Fitzgerald is head of the Registry of Motor Vehicles. I also heard that Tim Fitzgerald is a psychiatrist.

Mike: Brian Hallahan has taken over the Howdy Doody Show with no strings attached. Paul Harvey is the swimming instructor at Camp DeVal, and Bob Pickering has become a star of a silent movie in Hollywood.

Kenny: Chuck Ouellette owns a non-fattening choc-o-late factory. Bob Powers and Roger Leonard are co-owners of a coin shop.

Kathy: I see where Marylou Preble is the new mermaid on the Chicken of the Sea cans. Cindy, I hear you're captain of the Lothrop Street basketball team.

Cindy: Yes, and that reminds me. Ronny Hopkins is a swinging disc jockey for Station WBET.

Kenny: One celebrity we forgot to mention is "Bozo" McMenamy. He has taken the part of Chubby Checker in a Broadway production. Sharon Kane and Jim McNeill have their own TV show called "The Jim McNeill Dance Party."

Mike: Two of our N.H.S. boys have become successes. Tim Larson is a penmanship teacher, and Rick Doane is a stunt man for Don Knotts.

Maddy: I read Linda Carroll's "Dear Linda" column in the Green Flyer yesterday. It was quite interesting. I also heard that Nancy Daniels is a successful trailer designer.

Butch: John Brady teaches ballet to cheerleaders, and Kyle Ondricek is a bullfighter under the professional name of Mr. Clean.

Mike: Ed Hill and Ed Watson have built up a junkyard by themselves. I hear Ed Hill has put a fence around it to keep the sun out. Speaking about cars, Pete "Crash" Burns is a stock car driver.

Cindy: Virginia Kirchorfer is Conrad Adenauer's private secretary, and Joanne Celebrase is Mike's bookkeeper.

Kathy: Paulette Barboza told me that she's working for General Mills Inc., Mansfield division. Linnea Carlson is the manager of the cookie department at W. T. Grant's.

Maddy: Chanda Hansen is a fast worker at a drug store, putting "Jimmies" on ice cream cones, and Cheryl Smith is a saleswoman for Avon Cosmetics.

Butch: Bruce Lindsay is a jockey at Narragansett Park. Jim Murray is a world famous engineer—he conducts trains from Easton with Mike Wolak as his conductor.

Kenny: David Masaitis is an interpreter at the United Nations, and Ken Scully is the United States ambassador to Antarctica.

Cindy: Beverly Durkee is Easton's truant officer. Donna Silva repairs broken hydrants as Cary Snow comes along afterwards with his ladder and paints them.

Kathy: Dotty Hanson manufactures stockings of all colors, and Sheila Heath does the same with sweaters. Has any one heard from Doris Olson?

Maddy: She hasn't been heard from since the last Indian attack. But I do know that Kathy Smith is Mr. Legan's buddy at the B.P.M., and that Cynthia VanVloten is Secretary to the new principal at O.A., who inherited the title.

Mike: Patrick Neary is to defend his heavyweight title against Sheila Daniels's wrestler next week. Doug Hawkes is a lighthouse keeper up in Maine.

Butch: Chester Matheson is working in the Cinderella section at Disneyland. Richard Jennings is a sales clerk in Edgar's, and Dick McCarthy is manager of the light-bulb department there.

Kenny: I found out that Gary Thomas is owner of an ear-muff manufacturing company. Do Jimmy and Leo Spillane really run a night school?

Cindy: Yes. That's where Dick Williams received his training. Now he's a professional Thunderbird polisher. Pat Taylor is a spelling teacher. She goes around to the different schools with Tim.

Maddy: Rosemary Santos is Flyweight boxing champion of the world, and Alice Pires runs a pie-throwing contest at Fernandes. Is that Barbara Melendy distributing racing forms on her bicycle?

Kathy: Yes, it looks like her. Somehow that reminds me of Ann Marie Moller. She's running a taxi service for ex-basketball players. Charlotte Hinds has joined her sister at the Beth Israel Hospital in Boston.

Mike: Jeff Bassett is head scoutmaster in the United States, and Larry Anderson is still trying to invent growing pills so he can play varsity basketball.

Cindy: Joan Ando is a dedicated veterinarian, and Elaine Evans is Mrs. Kennedy's hairdresser.

Butch: John Graca is a gravestone polisher, and Butch Wood carries bundles for the bundleboys at Fernandes.

Kathy: Marilyn Johnston and Pat King run a nursery school. Now Pat Iwaskiewicz advertises alphabet cereal.

Kenny: Chuck Texeira, you remember, that quiet boy, he's now principal of Stoughton High School. George Randall's fondest dream came true. He's now a basketball coach.

Maddy: Gail Mitchell is running a Public Market in co-operation with a gas station across the street.

Butch: Rosie Wilbur and Eldon Tufts run a physical fitness program.

Cindy: Gail Sawyer is a model in a plant specializing in artificial dimples, and Beverly McCrorey is running a Babysitting service.

Mike: Russ Anderson has taken Bob Cousy's place on the Boston Celtics with all his behind-the-back tricks.

Kathy: Doug Lawrence is a tenor for the Metropolitan Opera.

Kenny: Dick Wood is a short story writer for the Heath Publishing Company.

Butch: Well, the races are about to begin. I hear Martin Stacy playing his trumpet for the dogs to be led out. He took a night off from his T.V. series, "Ichabod and Me."

Maddy: I hear there's a famous track star running against the dogs tonight. I guess it's true because there's Dotty Dorn waiting at the finish line.

Kenny: The dogs are in the gate now so let's go watch the first race.

It is with great pleasure and pride that the Oliver Ames High School Class of 1962 records their class history.

In September, 1958, we began our memorable journey as freshmen with Miss Healey as our class advisor. Our first class meeting was held October 1, with Harold Holmes, president, Anne Hallowell, vice-president, Rosemary Santos, secretary, and Joan Burke, treasurer, as presiding officers.

At this meeting, we selected a motto committee and a class banner committee. With the help of these committees, we chose our motto, "Vincit qui patitur," or Exceed the Goal. We carried this message to all on our first Class Day on a banner bearing our colors, blue and gold. The most exciting event of our freshman year was our social, "Mardi Gras," which was held in the afternoon. The gymnasium was gaily decorated in a humorous, colorful manner expressing the gaiety shown at the real Mardi Gras. As freshmen our class was outstanding and was represented in all sports.

The fall brought us back as sophomores with Harold Holmes, Rosemary Santos, and Joan Burke in their respective positions, and Michael Poliseno became our vice-president. Early in October, the class received their class rings. They were very pleased with the new style which was chosen the previous spring. One of the most memorable events of our sophomore year was our first evening social, "Dixieland," held on April 8. The social, decorated to the theme of a southern plantation, was a tremendous success due to the hard work of the chairmen and various committees.

Our junior year rolled around with excitement and the future at hand. The officers remained the same, and Miss Healey became our class advisor for the third year. On December 2, we held our social, "Ebb Tide," which was a complete success due to its intriguing underwater atmosphere. During the month of March the following students from our class were chosen for the National Honor Society:

History

Sandra Birnie, Joanne Celebrase, Carol Chickering, Richard Doane, Anne Hallowell, Harold Holmes, Kathryn Langley, Richard Larson, Cynthia Sault, and Martin Stacy.

On May 21, with the seniors as co-workers, we presented the Junior-Senior Prom. We shall never forget the wonderful times we all had preparing for the prom. As we danced in the tint of blue, we pictured ourselves as seniors. Our last task as juniors was decorating the gymnasium for the Senior Reception. Virginia Laramee, Linda Carroll, Joan Burke, Donna Silva, Nancy Hall, Gail Sawyer, Anne Hallowell, Dorothy Dorn, Susan Hatchfield, Susan Haley, and Sharon Baird were chosen as usherettes. The ushers were Henry Steinberg, Francis Martin, Harold Holmes, Michael Polisen, Edward Cram, Kenneth McCabe, Joseph Nieviera, Kenneth Scully, Kyle Ondricek, and James McNeill.

September of 1961 finally came, and we were seniors at last. Harold Holmes, Michael Polisen, and Rosemary Santos remained in their respective positions, and Susan Hatchfield became our class treasurer. To Miss Healey, our always faithful class advisor, we owe a debt of gratitude. Our final social was held on October 22, being named "Harvest Moon." It was a great success due to the colorful decorations and the hard work of all in the class.

We made plans for several months concerning our class play and on March 30 and 31, it was presented. "Our Town" was well done thanks to the many hard-working classmates. At this time Joan Burke received the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award, and Lawrence Anderson represented us on Good Government Day at the State House in Boston.

The class has distinguished itself in all its efforts at Oliver Ames High School in the past four years. As seniors, co-captains Donna Silva and Linda Santoro led the victorious field hockey team. Henry Steinberg and Kyle Ondricek were co-captains of our championship football team. Susan Haley, Sharon Baird, Joan Burke, Susan Hatchfield, and Rosemary Santos led the school cheerleaders. During the basketball season our boys' team was headed by Harold Holmes and Henry Steinberg, while the girls' team was headed by Cynthia Sault and Joan Ando. Both teams completed their season with an undefeated record.

In May we held the Junior-Senior Prom with a midnight dinner and dancing until two o'clock the next morning. The springtime decorations left an impression to remember in years to come.

Senior week finally arrived, and we ended our schooldays with Baccalaureate, our class trip, Class Day exercises, and graduation. Our Senior Reception came on a Friday night. Good-byes were said to classmates and teachers, and our long awaited future lay ahead.

Class of 1963

The class of 1963 began their junior year with two new class officers: president, Stephen Trombly, and vice-president, Donald Cabana; Judith Manchester and Janet Hudson retained their respective positions.

On November 24, our social, "Rhapsody in Blue," was held in the cafeteria. Because of the hard work of the chairman and the various committees, it was a success, both socially and financially.

The class of 1963 was very well represented on both the girls' and boys' athletic teams; many received letters and recognition. Charles Kelly captained the baseball team, and many other juniors were outstanding in sports.

In May, together with the seniors, the Junior-Senior Prom was held. This affair was the high of our junior year. Traditionally, ushers and usherettes, who decorated for the Senior Reception,

Class of 1964

The beginning of September found the class of 1964 anxious to start another successful year at Oliver Ames. The class officers were Charles Baker, president, Paul Sundell, vice-president, Tondra Carlson, secretary, and Pamela Hatchfield, treasurer.

We received our class rings in October, and the new style, voted on last year, will be the traditional ring for Oliver Ames from now on.

At our first class meeting in the fall we voted for chairmen and committees for our social to be held in April.

We were well represented in the Student Council by sophomores Jeanne Carlson, Barbara Freitas, Leo Kent, and Gerald Silva.

Many sophomores participated in athletics; the boys in football and j.v. basketball and the girls in field hockey and basketball.

FOOTBALL

The Oliver Ames football team of 1961 was one of the most highly spirited squads ever to represent the school. The boys realized that they had to compensate the loss of practically the entire first team last June. What the team lacked in physical ability from last year it balanced with determination and courage. We almost equaled the feat of the 1960 team, being defeated by a total of only eight points all season and compiling an enviable record of seven wins to two losses.

The boys faced strong opposition, and the local newspapers and downtown quarter-backs often picked them to be the losers. But this team had the God-given ability to face opposition with every bit of strength it possessed. Backed by two outstanding coaches, Mr. Muscato and Mr. Nixon, the Orange and Black proved the papers and prognosticators to be wrong. The team of 1961 was determined not to let the school down, and it did a fine job. Not only was it a winning season for football, but the boys also brought home the title of Hockomock League champions.

As Coach Muscato says, "It's desire that wins ball games," and we followed this point to the letter. In future years the young men who played for this team will think back with a smile and realize that all the hard work they put into the game of football paid off with the league championship. Thanks to them, the Oliver Ames team will still be regarded as one of the most highly respected in the area.

FIELD HOCKEY

The 1961 field hockey season initiated at Oliver Ame's home field with Canton. Both the varsity and j.v. team scored 3-0 wins. The team continued undefeated, untied, and unscored upon through the next seven games, including a victory over a strong Foxboro team. It was OA's first victory over them in five years and broke Foxboro's long winstreak.

The formidable defense consisted of halfbacks Charlotte Hinds, Alice Pires, Judy Chapman, and Kathy Johnson, supported by fullbacks Joan Ando, Donna Nieviera, and Susan McKenna, and goalies Pat Iwaskiewicz and Arlene Stoddard. Co-captains Donna Silva and Linda Santoro, Joan Burke, Donna Barker, Anne Fitzpatrick, and Barbara Freitas made up the OA offense.

Oliver Ame's sole defeat came at the hands of King Philip at the latter's home field. K.P. scored three times in the opening minutes of play. OA fought back, but King Philip walked away with a 3-0 victory.

In the last game of the season Oliver Ames recovered from its loss and again defeated Foxboro, this time by a score of 2-1. This win gave Oliver Ames the Hockomock League Championship.

The junior varsity completed the season with an undefeated record, tying one game with Stoughton and winning on a forfeit by King Philip.

Together both teams compiled one of the best records in the history of Oliver Ames.

From the class of 1962 Mrs. Delores Smith will lose eleven members of the championship team by graduation. Among those returning will be co-captains-elect Donna Nieviera and Anne Fitzpatrick.

BASKETBALL

After a brief period of relaxation following the football season, basketball practice was under way. Rigorous practice sessions occupied the twelve varsity men for the first few weeks. Coach Val Muscato was determined to maintain the high quality of basketball that Oliver Ames is noted for. After a few successful scrimmages Coach knew how matters stood. The starting five was to consist of four returning seniors.

The season started with great promise. The team was looking forward to an undefeated year and the Tech championship. The first goal was achieved after a few close calls, but fate stepped in to eliminate Oliver Ames from the tourney in the quarterfinals. One should not neglect to remember that the undefeated season brought the Hockomock trophy into the O.A. trophy case once again. It will serve to remind us that the 1962 season was one to be proud of. The boys who earned that trophy will always remember the tension in the locker-room at half-time or the sweet taste of victory at the end of each game. They will especially remember the bitter sorrow of the team's only loss. The fondest memory will be that this team was one to be respected.

... VARSITY HAS UNDEFEATED SEASON

The girls' varsity basketball team completed an undefeated season by outscoring eleven opposing area teams. Co-captains for the year were Joan Ando and Cindy Sault.

The OA girls romped over their opponents in the first three games but their fourth game, with Canton, was a close call. The smart foul line shooting of Co-captain Joan Ando helped save the game with a final score of 36-34; however, the next time we played Canton we downed them 49-33.

After defeating Randolph and King Philip, we came to the game against Foxboro, which we thought would be the most difficult; It turned out to be the easiest with star forward Diane Loving scoring 35 points.

On downing Stoughton for the second time, the final match, with Sharon, arrived. An apprehensive feeling was in the air, and good reason, too—we won by only one point.

Although our J.V. team didn't go undefeated, they played well and will be the makings of a successful varsity team next year under the direction of newly elected co-captains Diane Loving and Donna Barker.

We would like to sincerely thank our wonderful coach, Mrs. Smith, for all her help and encouragement.

Student Presents Christmas

The Student Council changed considerably during the past year. This was due partially to the 1961 exchange trip with Delmar, New York. We began the year by changing the Preamble to our Constitution. This enabled us to handle many of the assemblies and to hold homeroom meetings, thus hearing the opinions of the student body.

The main project this year was to award jackets to the field hockey and football teams.

Council the Ball

The Student Council would like to thank the members of the student body for their co-operation in helping the Student Council with the various committees, record hops, cake sales, and car washes held throughout the year. We would also like to thank Mr. Wilson for his keen interest during this past year.

that drunken ball
Best of luck*

The National Honor Society of Oliver Ames High School held its induction ceremony March 2, 1962. Two new members, James Barretto and Donna Barker, were inducted. The following are senior members: Richard Doane, president, Harold Holmes, Richard Larson, treasurer, Martin Stacy, Joanne Celebrase, and Carol Chickering, secretary.

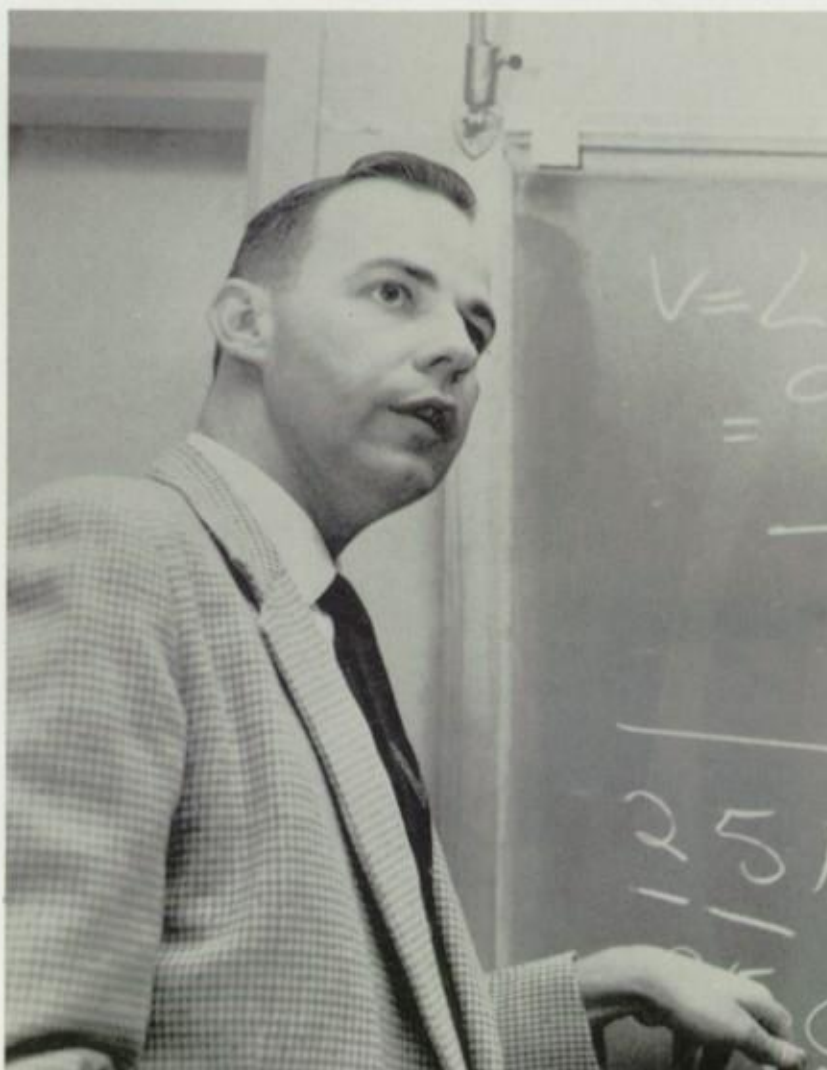

On March 6, we were guests at the Clover Club meeting where we listened to a speaker on communism. We are presently working on a "Books of Asian Students" project.

The Future Teachers of America Club opened the year under the advisorship of Miss Hélène Connell and with the following slate of officers: President—Anne Hallowell, Vice-president—Jeralyn Smith, Secretary—Cynthia Sault, Treasurer—Mary Lou Preble, Historian—Donna Bergeron.

Ten new members were initiated in December. The activities included a speaker from Northeastern University, a dance on January 20, and a visit to Bridgewater State College in the spring. Cadet teaching for juniors and seniors was begun in the spring. The F.T.A. also sponsored a scholarship to be given to a senior member of the club who intends to enter the teaching profession.

Future Nurses of America

The Future Nurses of America began its second year with many new and old members. On its first official meeting of the year, the following officers were elected: Kathryn Langley as president, Nancy Daniels as vice-president, Theresa Fournier as secretary, and Judith Standley as treasurer.

In November the Future Nurses Club held a Scholarship Bazaar, which proved to be a huge success. Many of the articles offered for sale were made by the members of the club and other students. The proceeds of the sale will be used as scholarship aid for girls interested in nursing. Plans are being made to make the bazaar and scholarship a yearly affair.

During the year, volunteer programs have been initiated in our two local nursing homes. Student visits have been made at Massachusetts General Hospital and the Brockton Hospital. Several representatives of the nursing professions have been speakers at the weekly meetings of the Future Nurses Club.

The future of the club depends upon the cooperation and interest of its members.

Science Club

The Science Club of Oliver Ames High School began its first year under the advisorship of Mr. Simpson and assistant advisorship of Mr. Harding. The officers voted in were Kyle Ondricek and Peter Burns, co-chairmen, and Cynthia Sault, secretary-treasurer.

The club was divided into various sections, including electronics, chemistry, biology, photography, and rocketry. Many of the projects carried out by these groups were entered in the Science Fair in March.

There has been a tremendous response to the Science Club this year, and there are great expectations for the continuance of success in the coming years.

Orchestra

The O.A.H.S. orchestra, though small in number, has accomplished much this year. The group performed at many assemblies, often in accordance with the Glee Club.

With the graduation of twelve members, the Orchestra will be greatly diminished; however, the large number of junior high students coming up to the high school next year will fill the positions left.

Band

The Oliver Ames High School Band has been very active this year. During football season, the bands of the junior high and the high school were combined into a larger and better group. They were most active playing at half time at the football games.

The "concert" band has enjoyed playing at the school assemblies and at joint concerts with the glee club and the orchestra.

Glee Club

The Oliver Ames Glee Club has had a full schedule this year. Our first outside performance was for the Outlook Club on October 24, 1961.

The all-district concerts were held in Marshfield on January 19th and 20th, with eleven of our members attending. Mrs. Ashley was manager of the choral group. On the 27th of January, the All-State auditions were held at Oliver Ames with the concert given at Pittsfield, Mass., April 12th, 13th, and 14th.

S.E.M.S.B.A. concerts were held in Hull on March 16, 17, and 18, with fourteen of our members in attendance. Those three who were accepted sang with the All-New England Chorus at Silver Lake Regional High School April 5, 6, and 7. We are very proud of the large number from our glee club who were able to participate with these outside groups.

We are beginning work on our operetta which we hope will be a great success. As yet, we have no definite dates set up for its performance.

This year we will go to Sharon for a joint concert, as part of the exchange program begun last year. On December 19, 1961, the newly formed 'a cappella' presented a Christmas program at the Ames Free Library.

JUNIOR — SENIOR PROM

On Friday, May 12, 1961, our Junior-Senior Prom was held in the school gym. A canopy of varied blues formed the main background for a light spring setting. A beautiful atmosphere was made complete as the handsome couples danced to the strains of Kelley's orchestra. Following the colorful grand march and the delicious, midnight dinner served by the parents, dancing continued until two in the morning. It seems hardly necessary to add "an enjoyable time was had by all."

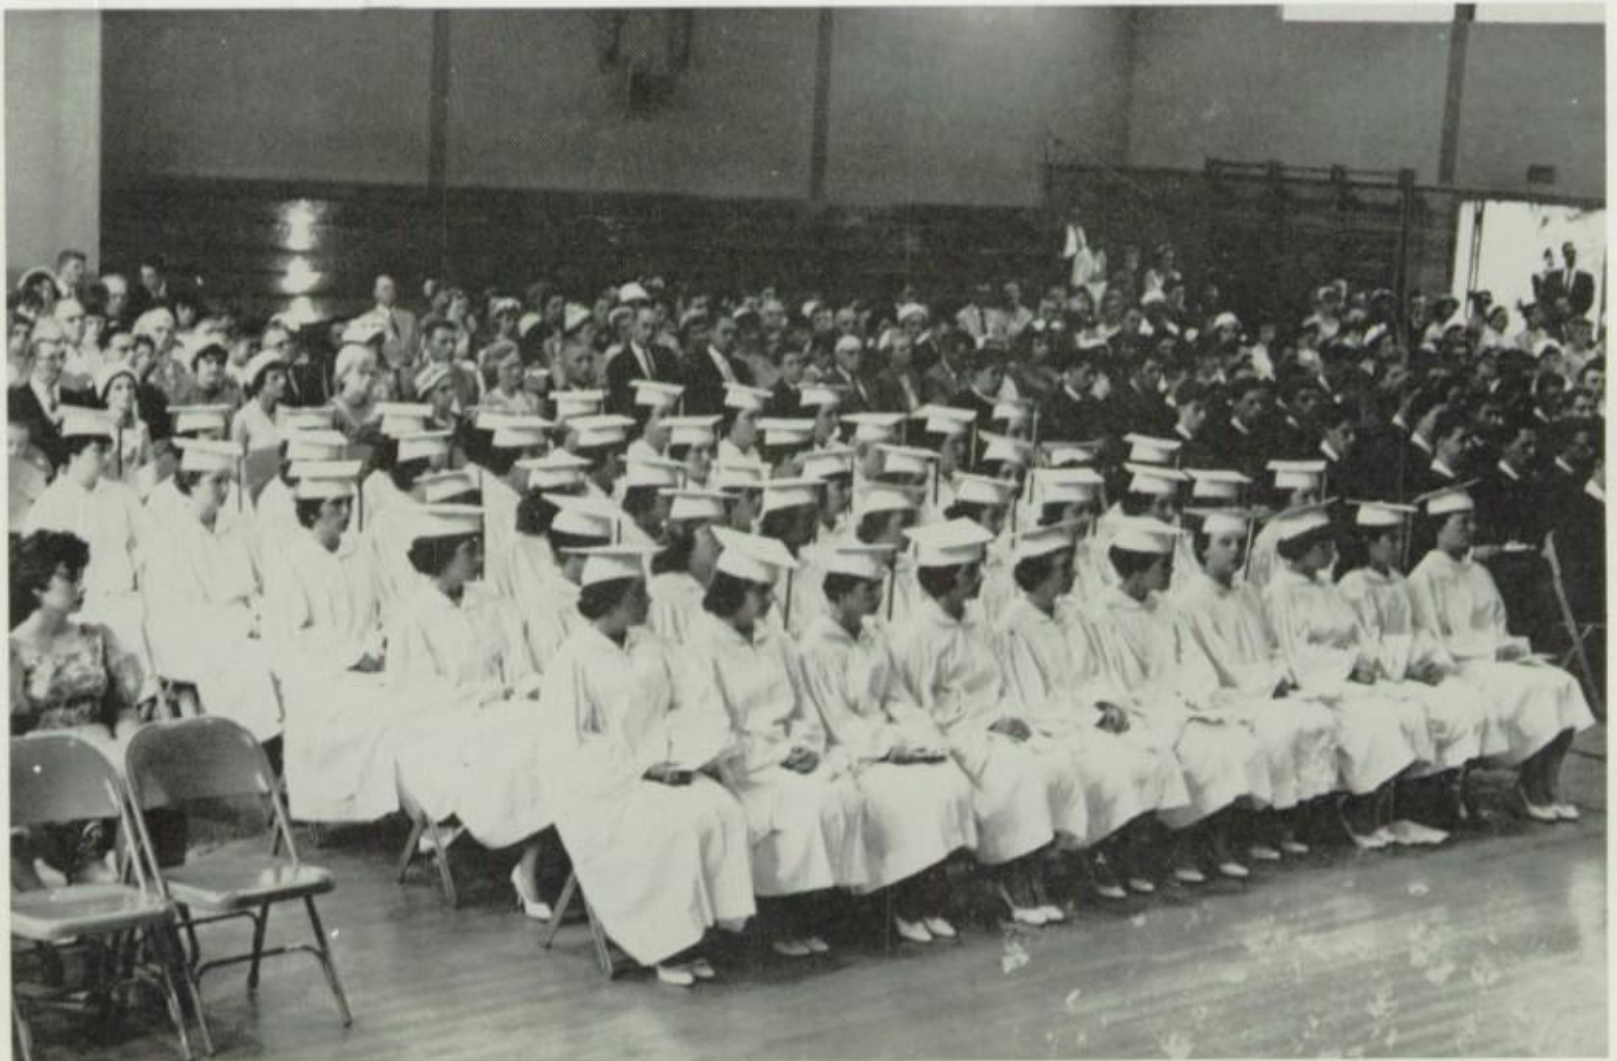

Pirates of Penzance

Gilbert and Sullivan were again the choice of the glee club for its third annual production of a musical comedy. This year's presentation, The Pirates of Penzance, held on Friday, April 28th, and Saturday, April 29th, provided its cast with stage experience and the audience with delightful entertainment.

BACCALAUREATE

The first event of our senior week came on June 11, 1961, Baccalaureate services. Reverend Bjorklund's address to the Seniors made many of us stop and consider what the future may hold in store for us.

On Wednesday evening of our Senior Week came Class Day, a gay affair that will always hold many memories—our proud rendition of our class song—and John Smith's presentation of the shovel to the upcoming senior class.

GRADUATION

RECEPTION

The highlight and final event of our Senior Week, our Senior Reception, came on June 16th. A special event with extra special memories—our tearful good-byes to our fellow classmates—the colorful and impressive grand march—and of course the Senior Dance, “From the First Hello to the Last Good-Bye.”

IN MEMORIAM

JOHN C. MASON
Oliver Ames High School
1935—1961

Much could be said about the contributions and influences of John C. Mason on the entire community of Easton for he was active in civic affairs, as a student at Oliver Ames High School, as a citizen in the community and as a member of the high school faculty.

A characteristic of Mr. Mason's which stands out most in my mind is his influence as a teacher upon hundreds of young people who came to know him, not only in the classroom, but on the athletic fields, at Frothingham Memorial Park, as senior advisor for many years and as a friend. His memories were rich, and I was often amazed to hear him recount details of his activities and associations of many years ago. His ability to recall individuals, names and events was truly outstanding and indicative of his love for people. Certainly his life was rich, full and rewarding, and the Town of Easton is the beneficiary of his having been here.

 is a swell kid who's a real blast (especially at beach parties)
 This year has flown by and I know next year will go twice as fast. Best of luck, and keep laughing. Love
 Janet

Joanne -
 I hope you're having a great time at the beach parties.
 I know next year will go twice as fast.
 Best of luck,
 and keep laughing. Love
